

Anne Gebelein

Associate Director, El Instituto

Associate Professor in Residence, Latin American and Caribbean Studies

Ph.D., Yale

Contact

The University of Connecticut

El Instituto, Ryan Bldg., U-1161

Storrs, CT 06269-1161

Tel : 860-486-8030

E-mail: Anne.Gebelein@uconn.edu

Areas of Interest:

Border and Immigration Studies

Contemporary Latin American Literature, with a focus on Human Rights and Testimony

Latino literature

Literature of the Caribbean, Mexican, and Central American diasporas

Biographical Note:

Dr. Gebelein received her doctorate, M. Phil., and Master's in Hispanic Literatures from Yale University Dept. of Spanish and Portuguese. Prior to her position at UConn, she worked as an educational consultant for the Anti-Defamation League and the Coordinating Council for Children in Crisis, and as a translator in health care and law enforcement settings. She has also held teaching positions at Yale, Columbia, UMass, and Trinity College. Dr. Gebelein's most recent research involves service learning in Latin American Studies, but she is also interested in intersections of border studies, human rights, testimony, and migration.